

Weekend Update
by Walter Robinson

If a bare-ass nun isn't enough, we have as well a bare-ass knight by Robert Feintuch at CRG Gallery. The life-size painting of a man wearing only the top half of a nice suit of parade armor exposes "an ever-deepening vulnerability" that "put his manhood in question," according to Kirby Gookin in the catalogue essay. The knight is sold -- as are most of Feintuch's cloud paintings at $16,000-$18,000. One small sunset is left at $4,500.